NEW SILVER DOLLAR.

NEW YORK, July 20.—An effort is being made by the Treasury Department to force the new silver dollar into circulation. Treasurer—Giffilian's circular, issued yesterday, was not sent to the New York National banks. President Tappan, of the Gallatin National Bank says to this city, as they would immediately come back to the sub-Treasury. The Treasurer's letter was sent to the banks in parts of the country whose people would have poor facilities for getting rid of the new dollars, and would therefore be obliged to use them instead of bank notes. This showed plainly that there was no popular demand for them. If the people wanted them no effort to force them, isto circulation would be necessary. President Coe, of the American Exchange Bank, says that the circular was designed for the West, where they had held camp meetings to pray for the silver dollar. Mr. Giffillam being ktnd-hearted man, wished to grant their petition, but did not try to send the dolars to this circ. where they had not been petition, but did not try to send the dol-lars to thiscity, where they had not beer prayed for and were not wanted.

three days. General Butler took a short run out of the city this evening. To a World reporter he defines the new party in these terms:

"Let me tell you how you can tell a National when you see him. When you see a man who thinks that the relations of parties as they at present exist are not such as will bring about the best results, that man is a National. When you see a man who believee that the financial system of the country, as at present conducted, is founded in error and sure to produce mischief, and sustain the miseries which we now suffer, that man is a National. When you meet one who looks on the present government as a failure, as regards the fundamental aim of government to give the greatest comfort to the greatest number, that man is a National. When you find a man who believes that everyone has a right to his own at all right, that man is a National. The National movement is to be an uprising of the people, and every man is to have what is rightfully his according to the natural laws of God and man. Of Citizen Schwab, he said, "I never saw the man, but who is he?" Does he not sell beer under-wilcense granted by the city of New York, is he not in a lawful business and entitled to the law's protection. Justus Schwab is an infinitely superior man to the fellows who drive in their Tally-Ho coaches."

The question was discussed at the Cabinet meeting yesterday, but was not definitely settled. Correspondence concerning it is going on between the Treasury and Postoffice Departments.

Lords, on Thursday. The Italian Gov-ernment and Conservative organs con-tinue to attack England. ITALIAN OPINION. The Italian Redical papers do not no-tice the subject of English occupation of Cyrus, but exclusively devote attention to Austria. The Russian unofficial press is more or less dissatisfied with the treaty. Before its conclusion Aksakoff, a Pan-Slayist agitator, made such a violent speech at Moscow against the Russian concessions in the Congress that he was warned that its repetition would be regarded as a personal attack on the Crar.

majority of the Bussian people, as well as the lower masses, are heartily glad of the return of peace.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg gives the following as the substance of the instructions that have been issued to the official journals to guide them in their comments upon the Berlin Treaty: They are to say that the objects of the war, as announced by the Cara when he ordered the troops to cross the Danube, have been fully accomplished. These objects were the deliverance of the persecuted Christian subjects of the Sultan from the tyranny et the Turks, and the vindication of the legitimate national aspirations of the Slava. This has been done. No longer may the Turks persecute or oppress the Christians. The hated Treaty of Paris, which was a badge of Rossish has been compensated for her sacrifices in the war by having restored to her the territory in Besarabia taken from the by that treaty, and the Danube is sgain her frontier. She has compelled Austria and Turkey to concede the freedom of navigation of the Danube. The new State which she has arrected out of the territory wrested from the Sultan, will regard Russis and instead from the Sultan, will regard Russis as its creator and savior. The Turks ish frontier is pushed back to the Balkans, and Sophia taken from Turkey is attempted Russis will find no fortresses in her way until she reaches the Balkans, and instead of storming them she can urn attempted Russia will find no fortresses in her way until she reaches the Balkans and instead of storming them she can turn

As for the money indemnity of £160,000,000, due from Turkey, she has not relinquished it, but only postponed the time for its payment. Thus it is argued that Russia has cause for satisfaction and congratulation.

United States Proposes.

London, July 20.—In view of the impossibility of Russia obtaining a new loan in the European markets, the probable failure of her attempt to float a domestie loan and the difficulties attending the collection of an income tax; it has been suggested to her Finance Minister that a Russian loan of two hundred million of dollars offered on favorable terms in the United States would probably be quickly taken up. It has been shown to the Finance Minister that the United States Government is now offering but one species of her bonds, the new 4 per cents, and that so great is the plethora of unemployed capital that these are daily purchased to large amounts. It was represented further that if Russis should offer to take one or two hundred millions of dollars from the Americans, on long bonds, bearing six per cent interest, United States Proposes offer to take one or two hundred milions of dollars from the Americans, on long bonds, bearing six per cent interest, and should offer them at ninety per cent the temptation for Americans to invest would be strong. The question of a syndicate for placing the loan was suggested, but it was thought that it would be difficult for a syndicate without the co peration of the Jewish bankers, who would oppose the loan, and that it would be better for Russia to open agencies of her own, or through the sid of friendly American bankers, and offer the bonds direct to purchasers, quoted at 904, bearing twe per cent; of 1871 five per cent issue at 81, quoted at 87‡, of 1872 five per cent issue at 81, quoted at 87‡, of 1872 five per cent issue at 894, quoted at 87, and 1874 by per cent issue at 88‡ quoted at 87.

Russia has been an extensive borrower, and his always paid her interest promptly and honorably. Her last loan was made in 1875. It bears 4‡ per cent, and is worth 78‡ in London at present. Her five-per cents of 1862 are worth 85‡. Her other loans now unredeemed are those of 1880, issued at 80.

At the anniverary of the establishment of the Liberal Association of Bermondsey street, London, to-night, Mr. Gladaton made a long speech, in which he begged to decline reauming the leadership of the Liberal party. He powerfully attacked the manner in which the people had lately been governed. No despotic Government in Europe would have dared to do what this cabinet had done, accepting such responsibilities as were unknown to England.

Mr. Gladstone concluded by hoping that the Ministry would shortly be judged by an appeal to the country.
